HUMAN FIEND CONFESSES KIDNAPING 12 YEAR OLD GIRL

ATTACKED HER AFTER CARRYING HER MORE THAN 100 MILES FROM HOME

"HE EVEN TRIED TO DROWN ME," SAID THE GIRL IN HER DELIRIUM

(By United Press.) Muskegon, Michigan Nov. 2.—Raymond Eugene Wilson of Grand Rapids today confessed that he kidnaped Rosalie Shanty, 12 year old girl, and attacked her after having carried her more than a hundred miles from home, according to police.

Police continued to grill Wilson as Rosalie fought for her life in a little farm house near Douglas.

"I drank some moonshine whiskey," Wilson is alleged to have said. "I thought of Rosalie whom I met last Summer. I met her in front of the Sunday school, and drove her to Douglas. There I attacked her. She struggled and ran down the road. I returned to my home in Grand Rapids."

Rosalie was found in a swamp far back in the wilderness. She was delirious and had not yet been able to tell authorities of her experience. Physicians feared that she would die without regaining her mental faculties.

In rambling statements as she tossed on her bed, the girl accused Wilson of trying to drown her. "He even tried to drown me," she muttered. "He threw me in the water but I was too good a swimmer for that."

Feeling was running high here today, and a special guard of armed deputies was kept ready for instant action.

LA FOLLETTE ASSAILS CAPITAL, MONOPOLY, BIG BUSINESS, ETC.

WISCONSIN SOLON OUT TO AID SHIPSTEAD FOR THE SENATE

IN MOMENT OF RETROSPECTION HE RECOUNTED SPEECH MADE 5 YEARS AGO

(By United Press.) Mankato, Minn., Nov. 2.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, who stepped across the line a couple of days to aid his fellow candidate for the senate, Dr. Henrik Shipstead, declared Minnesota has been run "by a corporation government for so long" that the people have "forgotten the kind of government you used to have."

The Wisconsin solon assailed capital, monopoly, big business combination and the control of the government by wealth.

In a moment of retrospection, he recounted the speech he made in the St. Paul auditorium five years ago for which he was threatened with expulsion from the senate.

"Five years ago the special few wanted to hang five men in your state for standing for what they thought was right," he said. "The people who wanted to do the hanging are a dirty lot of cowards."

Senator La Follette exhorted his audience to vote for Dr. Shipstead for senator. He completely ignored Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen, democratic candidate for the senate, but vigorously criticized Senator Frank B. Kellogg, republican incumbent. He said he had been forced "to move forward a bit" himself to "keep pace with the burglars of the government."

N. M. D. A. MEETING AT GRAND RAPIDS

Great Industrial Exhibition Under Auspices of Grand Rapids Commercial Club

BRAINERD IS INTERESTED

At One Time President and Secretary of the Development Association Were Brainerd Men

Every Northern Minnesota farm and civic organization has been invited to attend the thirteenth annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development Association which will be held at Grand Rapids, November 8th and 9th. A great industrial exhibition under the auspices of the Grand Rapids Commercial club, will be held simultaneously with the association meeting.

Nine exceptionally fine addresses are scheduled on the program, dealing with matters especially pertinent to Northern Minnesota. It is interesting to note in this connection that a number of these speeches have to deal with subjects which have been strongly agitated in Brainerd and Crow Wing county.

One of these is on "Dairying As it Relates to a Permanent System of Agriculture". This subject will be discussed by A. J. Grover, of Hoard's Dairyman, Fort Atkinson, Wis. Mr. Grover is a national authority on dairying and will give the very latest word along this line. It is a subject about which every farmer in Crow Wing county is seriously interested in at this time.

Hon. Carlos Avery, game and fish commissioner of Minnesota, is on the program for an address on "The Game and Fish of Minnesota". Every true sportsman is interested in helping to preserve the wild game and fish of this region, and the local game protection league in Brainerd has done much in helping this movement.

"The Advantages of a State Owned Cement Plant" is a current subject which will be ably treated by Hon. Michael Boylan, of Virginia. This subject is especially vital to Brainerd and this vicinity, since in the discovery of marl in Crow Wing county, it is felt that the state plant should be located here. Senator Boylan and his committee were in Brainerd a short time ago, and made a tour of inspection in company with a number of our citizens to these marl deposits. He expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with his findings at that time.

Prof. F. J. Alway of the University of Minnesota, will discuss "Our Northern Peat Lands". Prof. Alway is conceded to be the best posted authority on this subject in the state, and will report on the results of the experimental work which he is carrying on with this substance as a fuel. There is a large acreage of peat in Minnesota, and quite a little of very high quality in the neighborhood of Brainerd, which might be manufactured into a very good substitute for coal under the right conditions.

A large amount of credit for the success of the Northern Minnesota Development Association is due to the activity of Brainerd people, who feel that they have been a vital power in its growth and in the results that have been obtained by the association. Some three years ago, when the summer convention was held at Walker, Brainerd attended it, in force, making an automobile tour, the largest that has ever been attempted in this section, to that town, driving up one day and returning the next.

At that time, the two principal officers in Northern Minnesota Development Association were held by Brainerd men, W. R. Wadsworth, president, and Fred T. Lincoln, at that time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was secretary.

The officers for the year closing with the November meeting are:

President—J. T. Naughtin, Keewauwin.

Vice President—J. J. Harney, Two Harbors.

Secretary—M. N. Kohl, Cass Lake.

Treasurer—Thomas Deisegard, Hill City.

The convention closes its program with the election of officers on the afternoon of November 9th.

N. M. D. A. MEETING AT GRAND RAPIDS

BRAINERD IS INTERESTED

At One Time President and Secretary of the Development Association Were Brainerd Men

Every Northern Minnesota farm and civic organization has been invited to attend the thirteenth annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development Association which will be held at Grand Rapids, November 8th and 9th. A great industrial exhibition under the auspices of the Grand Rapids Commercial club, will be held simultaneously with the association meeting.

Nine exceptionally fine addresses are scheduled on the program, dealing with matters especially pertinent to Northern Minnesota. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that a number of these speeches have to do with subjects which have been strongly agitated in Brainerd and Crow Wing county.

One of these is on "Dairying As It Relates to a Permanent System of Agriculture". This subject will be discussed by A. J. Grover, of Hoard's Dairyman, Fort Atkinson, Wis. Mr. Grover is a national authority on dairying and will give the very latest word along this line. It is a subject about which every farmer in Crow Wing county is seriously interested in at this time.

Hon. Carlos Avery, game and fish commissioner of Minnesota, is on the program for an address on "The Game and Fish of Minnesota". Every true sportsman is interested in helping to preserve the wild game and fish of this region, and the local game protection league in Brainerd has done much in helping this movement.

"The Advantages of a State Owned Cement Plant" is a current subject which will be ably treated by Hon. Michael Boylan, of Virginia. This subject is especially vital to Brainerd and this vicinity, since in the discovery of marl in Crow Wing county, it is felt that the state plant should be located here. Senator Boylan and his committee were in Brainerd a short time ago, and made a tour of inspection in company with a number of our citizens to these marl deposits. He expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with his findings at that time.

Prof. F. J. Alway of the University of Minnesota, will discuss "Our Northern Peat Lands". Prof. Alway is conceded to be the best posted authority on this subject in the state, and will report on the results of the experimental work which he is carrying on with this substance as a fuel. There is a large acreage of peat in Minnesota, and quite a little of very high quality in the neighborhood of Brainerd, which might be manufactured into a very good substitute for coal under the right conditions.

A large amount of credit for the success of the Northern Minnesota Development Association is due to the activity of Brainerd people, who feel that they have been a vital power in its growth and by the friends that have been obtained by the association. Some three years ago, when the summer convention was held at Walker, Brainerd attended it in force, making an automobile tour, the largest that has ever been attempted in this section, to that town, driving up one day and returning the next.

At that time, the two principal officers in Northern Minnesota Development Association were held by Brainerd men, O. R. Wesseling, president, and Fred T. Lincoln, at that time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was secretary.

The officers for the year closing with the November meeting are:

President—J. T. Naughtin, Keweenaw.

Vice President—J. J. Harney, Two Harbors.

Secretary—M. N. Koll, Cass Lake.

Treasurer—Thomas Bousgaard, Hill City.

The convention closes its program with the election of officers on the afternoon of November 9th.

PROPOSE NEW SCHOOL LAWS

State Teachers Association Convening at St. Paul Had Enrollment of 12,000 Teachers

32 LOCAL TEACHERS THERE

Recommends that Both County and State be Utilized as Unit of Taxation for Schools

By W. C. COBB, (Superintendent of City Schools)
The most important educational event of the school year to the state at large is the State Teachers' Association which convened last week in St. Paul, with an enrollment of nearly twelve thousand (12,000) teachers. Under a recent change in the by-laws of the association, giving greater importance to the several district units of the M. E. A., it is expected that the membership in the state institution will increase rapidly from now on, until it approaches fifteen or twenty thousand members. Under its perfected organization, now in process, with important changes in the articles of incorporation, it is a foregone conclusion that this state association of teachers, including nearly every line of educational effort in the state, from public school to private college and university, will become the most influential body in formulating and directing educational legislation of any organization in the state.

Thirty-two members from the teaching force of this city attended this state meeting and it goes without saying that all felt well repaid for the expense incurred thereby.

One of the outstanding features of this meeting was the special financial report prepared for the association by a special committee, headed by Dr. Swift of the Department of Education of the State University. This report, prepared in pamphlet form, and which occupied nearly two years in its preparation, throws some very interesting light on public school finance in the state as a whole and presents some very striking comparisons concerning the educational status of Minnesota and her neighbor states, Iowa, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

Minnesota's relative standing, in several important particulars, among the forty-eight states of the Union, is also presented, and these comparisons are not altogether complimentary to the state, from an educational point of view.

We are calling attention to only a few of the more striking facts brought out in the report, but the entire report will furnish some interesting material for discussion, and it is to be hoped, some action by the legislature which meets in January.

I will be a surprise to many people to learn that Minnesota ranks only twenty-fourth in the sisterhood of states in the per cent of its children of school age, who are enrolled in the public schools. One reason for this relatively poor showing is probably a weak school census law in the state and great laxity in enforcing the compulsory education law, particularly in the rural districts.

It is somewhat humiliating for a state, that has had the reputation educationally that Minnesota has held, to find that it ranks thirty-third among the states in the length of its annual school term. In 1921, the average pupil in Minnesota attended school 136 days, or about six and three-fourths months.

In making a comparison of a state or a school district's educational effort, the committee presenting the above report recognizes the true basis for a just comparison to be the state's or district's ability to pay compared with the amount actually paid. Minnesota ranks eleventh in the United States in the estimated wealth per child enrolled in the public schools and also ranks eleventh in the amount expended per child enrolled. Twenty-four per cent of the public school money spent in Minnesota is spent in St. Louis county but only 9 per cent of the children of the state live in this county. This may be one reason why Minnesota appears to rank relatively high as an educational state in certain particulars and falls so relatively low in the per cent of her school population attending school and in the average length of her school year.

The annual expenditure per pupil enrolled in 1920 was, for the state at large, ($71.00) seventy-one dollars. The average spent per child in St. Louis county for the same year was $181, while one district in St. Louis county spent $828 per child.

In comparing our own school district of Brainerd for the same year, 1920, as to expenditures per child, we find that Brainerd expended about $65.00 per child as compared with $71 the average for the state at large. If the average daily attendance were used as the basis and we compared our district with that of St. Louis county for the year 1920, Brainerd's expenditure per child was about $74 as compared with the St. Louis county average of $487 and of Hibbing's average of $852 per child.

The average annual salary for all teachers in the state of Minnesota for the year 1920 was $882, in St. Louis county was $1415 per teacher. The deductions from the report of this investigation of state school finances is that radical changes are needed in the method of distributing the school funds of the state. Among the eight thousand school districts in the state of Minnesota, the report shows that the most extreme and ridiculous inequalities exist, both as to financial ability to furnish educational opportunities to children as well as in the amount actually expended per child. As a remedy the report recommends that both the county and the state be utilized to a much greater extent as a unit of taxation for school purposes, and that a fair distribution be made based on the financial ability of the district and the number of pupils in attendance.

The principle involved in these recommendations is vitally applicable to a city such as Brainerd. The assessed valuation of Brainerd per pupil, whether based on total enrollment or average daily attendance, is exceedingly low, much lower than any other city of its class. Brainerd's assessed valuation per pupil for the year 1920, based on average daily attendance was about $1800, and its average expenditure per child for the year was a little more than $70. District No. 27 of St. Louis county for the same year had an assessed valuation of $32,789 per child, had an average daily school attendance about the same as that of Brainerd and expended $828 per child. In these two schools in Minnesota with about the same average daily attendance, the one spent $123,000 in the year 1920 and the other $1,593,950.

A total school enrollment in the Brainerd schools to October 27th was 2044. The new enrollments for the month of October were 49. The grade enrollment, 1635; high school enrollment, 389; normal training department, 22. Average attendance in grades, 1525; average daily attendance in high school, 366. Average number pupils per teacher, in grades based on daily attendance, 34; average number pupils per teacher in high school, based on daily attendance 21.

The average number of pupils per teacher in the schools as a whole does not give the actual number of pupils that some individual teacher will necessarily have. In the grades the distribution is as follows:

Number of rooms with
40 or more pupils	6
39 or more pupils	3
38 or more pupils	2
37 or more pupils	3
36 or more pupils	4
35 or more pupils	6
34 or more pupils	2
33 or more pupils	1
32 or more pupils	1
31 or more pupils	4
30 or more pupils	4
29 or more pupils	1
28 or more pupils	1
27 or more pupils	3
26 or more pupils	2
24 or more pupils	1

If 30 pupils to the room is used as a reasonable number for one teacher to care for, there are twelve rooms in our schools that meet such conditions. If 35 pupils per teacher were used at a reasonable basis, twenty-six rooms meet the condition. Eighteen rooms have in daily attendance more than thirty-five pupils per teacher.

Two additional teachers in the Harrison district, two in the Lowell and one additional teacher in the Washington, Lincoln, and Whittier buildings, would make it possible to distribute the pupils by grades without the necessity of seriously overcrowding any particular room.

In the high school the distribution of pupils by classes is as follows. Number classes:

25 to 30 pupil	14
20 to 25 pupils	35
15 to 20 pupils	13
10 to 15 pupils	5
Less than 10 pupils	5
Total No. classes	78
Average No. per class	17.
Average No. pupils per teacher	21.
Number H. S. class rooms (including 3 basement rooms)	15.
Number H. S. class room teachers	19.

Thirty-two members from the teaching force of this city attended this state meeting and it goes without saying that all felt well repaid for the expense incurred thereby.

One of the outstanding features of this meeting was the special financial report prepared for the association by a special committee, headed by Dr. Swift of the Department of Education of the State University. This report, prepared in pamphlet form, and which occupied nearly two years in its preparation, throws some very interesting light on public school finance in the state as a whole and presents some very striking comparisons concerning the educational status of Minnesota and her neighbor states, Iowa, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

Minnesota's relative standing, in several important particulars, among the forty-eight states of the Union, is also presented, and these comparisons are not altogether complimentary to the state, from an educational point of view.

We are calling attention to only a few of the more striking facts brought out in the report, but the entire report will furnish some interesting material for discussion, and it is to be hoped, some action by the legislature which meets in January.

I will be a surprise to many people to learn that Minnesota ranks only twenty-fourth in the sisterhood of states in the per cent of its children of school age, who are enrolled in the public schools. One reason for this relatively poor showing is probably a weak school census law in the state and great laxity in enforcing the compulsory education law, particularly in the rural districts.

It is somewhat humiliating for a state, that has had the reputation educationally that Minnesota has held, to find that it ranks thirty-third among the states in the length of its annual school term. In 1921, the average pupil in Minnesota attended school 136 days, or about six and three-fourths months.

In making a comparison of a state's or a school district's educational effort, the committee presenting the above report recognizes the true basis for a just comparison to be the state's or district's ability to pay compared with the amount actually paid. Minnesota ranks eleventh in the United States in the estimated wealth per child enrolled in the public schools and also ranks eleventh in the amount expended per child enrolled. Twenty-four per cent of the public school money spent in Minnesota is spent in St. Louis county but only 9 per cent of the children of the state live in this county. This may be one reason why Minnesota appears to rank relatively high as an educational state in certain particulars and falls so relatively low in the per cent of her school population attending school and in the average length of her school year.

The annual expenditure per pupil enrolled in 1920 was, for the state at large, ($71.00) seventy-one dollars. The average spent per child in St. Louis county for the same year was $181, while one district in St. Louis county spent $828 per child.

In comparing our own school district of Brainerd for the same year, 1920, as to expenditures per child, we find that Brainerd expended about $65.00 per child as compared with $71 the average for the state at large. If the average daily attendance were used as the basis and we compared our district with that of St. Louis county for the year 1920, Brainerd's expenditure per child was about $74 as compared with the St. Louis county average of $487 and of Hibbing's average of $852 per child.

The average annual salary for all teachers in the state of Minnesota for the year 1920 was $882, in St. Louis county was $1415 per teacher.

The deductions from the report of this investigation of state school finances is that radical changes are needed in the method of distributing the school funds of the state. Among the eight thousand school districts in the state of Minnesota, the report shows that the most extreme and ridiculous inequalities exist, both as to financial ability to furnish educational opportunities to children as well as in the amount actually expended per child. As a remedy the report recommends that both the county and the state be utilized to a much greater extent as a unit of taxation for school purposes, and that a fair distribution be made based on the financial ability of the district and the number of pupils in attendance.

The principle involved in these recommendations is vitally applicable to a city such as Brainerd. The assessed valuation of Brainerd per pupil, whether based on total enrollment or average daily attendance, is exceedingly low, much lower than any other city of its class. Brainerd's assessed valuation per pupil for the year 1920, based on average daily attendance was about $1800, and its average expenditure per child for the year was a little more than $70. District No. 27 of St. Louis county for the same year had an assessed valuation of $32,789 per child, had an average daily school attendance about the same as that of Brainerd and expended $828 per child. In these two schools in Minnesota with about the same average daily attendance, the one spent $123,000 in the year 1920 and the other $1,593,950.

A total school enrollment in the Brainerd schools to October 27th was 2044. The new enrollments for the month of October were 49. The grade enrollment, 1635; high school enrollment, 389; normal training department, 22. Average attendance in grades, 1525; average daily attendance in high school, 366. Average number pupils per teacher, in grades based on daily attendance, 34; average number pupils per teacher in high school, based on daily attendance 21.

The average number of pupils per teacher in the schools as a whole does not give the actual number of pupils that some individual teacher will necessarily have. In the grades the distribution is as follows:

Number of rooms with
40 or more pupils	6
39 or more pupils	3
38 or more pupils	2
37 or more pupils	3
36 or more pupils	4
35 or more pupils	6
34 or more pupils	2
33 or more pupils	1
32 or more pupils	1
31 or more pupils	4
30 or more pupils	4
29 or more pupils	1
28 or more pupils	1
27 or more pupils	3
26 or more pupils	2
24 or more pupils	1

If 30 pupils to the room is used as a reasonable number for one teacher to care for, there are twelve rooms in our schools that meet such conditions. If 35 pupils per teacher were used at a reasonable basis, twenty-six rooms meet the condition. Eighteen rooms have in daily attendance more than thirty-five pupils per teacher.

Two additional teachers in the Harrison district, two in the Lowell and one additional teacher in the Washington, Lincoln, and Whittier buildings, would make it possible to distribute the pupils by grades without the necessity of seriously overcrowding any particular room.

In the high school the distribution of pupils by classes is as follows.

Number classes:
25 to 30 pupil	14
20 to 25 pupils	35
15 to 20 pupils	19
10 to 15 pupils	5
Less than 10 pupils	5

Total No. classes ..... 78
Average No. per class 17.
Average No. pupils per teacher 21.
Number H. S. class rooms (including 3 basement rooms) 15.
Number H. S. class room teachers 19.

LOGGING MAY BE RETARDED IN NORTH

Dry Conditions of Swamps and the Streams Partly Relieved by Rains of Tuesday and Wednesday

PRES. GEMMELL'S STATEMENT

Night Passenger Business on the M. & I. Railway Increasing Due to Hunter's Travel

"Logging in northern Minnesota may be retarded this season because of the dry condition of swamps and streams, which offers no chance for logging roads," said W. H. Gemmell, president of the Minnesota & International railway.

The rains of Tuesday and Wednesday have done much to improve the situation. The logging camps need more men.

Night passenger business on the railway is increasing, due to the hunting season. Freight business is heavy, but cars are short.

The railway is not in the market for any new equipment.

ANOTHER GOVERNMENT FALLS

ITALY has not been immune from the troubles that have disturbed the tranquillity of peoples since the war came to an end. The leaders of all of the governments engaged in the World war were led by the exigencies of the situation into making similar mistakes. Promises that could not be kept were freely made. The soldiers who were fighting the battles of their respective countries, were promised by their governments that upon their return, the countries from which they went forth to battle would not forget their service which would be suitably rewarded. Labor was congratulated upon its splendid contribution to the needs of the nations in conflict and was assured that after the fighting had ceased the standard won during the war would not be lowered.

Such promises were not made after a careful review of history, which shows that after a war there is always an industrial reaction which makes it impossible to assure that prosperity which will afford the standards gained during a war, or make possible a satisfactory recognition of the services of the men who went to the front. This has proved to be true in Italy where, since the war, industrial disturbances, culminating in the workers taking over many of the factories, have been the order of the day.

The government of Italy for the past 20 years has been in the hands of reactionaries who have built up a government based on paternalism to meet the demands of the trying situations of recent years. This government by its impossible promises, which were inevitably broken, has been doomed for some time, and the question has been whether it would give place to a government of the conservative elements in Italy or to one composed of the socialists and communists who have become strong during recent years of industrial and economic breakdown.

There is hope for Italy in this new government, if it is able to give the people a sane economic program which will lead to the reduction of expenses of the country and rehabilitate the industrial enterprises of the land. Italy was required to choose between a sanely conservative government or a government dominated by the extremists of the nation, and while it is true that the fascisti under the leadership of Benito Mussolini took control by a display of strength, in the end the people are likely to rally to their standard with the hope that this new party will introduce stable government. There is just one danger and this is that the fascisti will introduce oppressive measures to curb the tendencies toward disorder that are manifested by the masses. In the disturbed situation that confronts the country this would be likely to result in strengthening the resistance of the communists. Good government by the fascisti will in the end win the approval of those elements that at present are expressing their resentment over the conditions in which they live, which are directly a resultant of the war but for which they blame the government.

SECRETARY OF STATE DEFENDS POLICY

THE speech made by Secretary Charles E. Hughes of the state department at Symphony Hall, Boston, on Monday evening, ably defended the policy of this administration in its relation to foreign affairs. Secretary Hughes discussed the causes underlying the misunderstandings of Europe and defended the course that has been taken by the administration in avoiding entanglements at the other side of the Atlantic.

Inconsistency marks the thinking of many people, to a greater or lesser degree, when they turn their attention to the involved question of America's participation in European affairs. Idealists sometimes clamor for a reduction of armed forces, until something goes wrong somewhere, when they demand that this country step in to redress the wrong. Such an attitude was taken recently with regard to the situation in the Near East. Advocates of a league of nations are very often the champions of reduction of armed forces, and they apparently fail to see that our entrance into such a league would obviate a reduction of our armaments.

The secretary of state is right in holding that the troubles in Europe and the Near East result from the failure of the nations over there to cooperate on a policy that is characterized by unity of purpose. The relations of those nations are so complicated that the conservatives of Britain under Bonar Law are advocating a policy of "hands off."

The interference of neighbors in a quarrel of other neighbors sometimes complicates the dispute and does not always serve to check the belligerency of the parties to the controversy. This is also true of the interference of nations.

America can play a more important role by acting as an outsider. A strong umpire is necessary and the United States may be expected to serve in this capacity. This country displayed force at the Dardanelles, but not for the purpose of taking sides in a battle. It was a protective force and not a combative force. Its mission was one of rescue and not one of destruction.

The people of the United States are ready to trust their foreign policy to the present administration, whose adviser, in the department of foreign affairs, has justified his claim to their confidence.

KANSAS VERSUS KLAN

WHATEVER else Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas may be he is fearless. When the governor has been led to the conclusion that a thing is wrong he is not afraid to attack it. Governor Allen does not allow anything to stand in the way of doing what he believes to be his duty. Even his friendships do not prevent his going right ahead on the road that he believes to be the right one. This was seen in his stand at the time when William Allan White said something that brought him into conflict with the Kansas Industrial law. The governor's friendship did not protect the editor from arrest as a law-breaker.

Governor Allen has been led to the conclusion that the Ku Klux Klan is a menace to the state of Kansas and, in accord with his fearless attitude in the presence of what he believes wrong, he has assailed the organization and announced that it will not be allowed to operate in Kansas. The governor's indictment of the Klan is based upon the belief that it helps to breed religious bigotry and community hatred. In this stand the governor of Kansas will have the approval of all thoughtful citizens who have given the matter serious consideration and have examined its platform and compared it with the foundation principles of American democracy. The Klan is fundamentally opposed to the contents of the preamble to the American Constitution and will not be welcomed by men who believe that every man has a right to worship God according to his own conscience.

OTHER PEOPLE'S VIEWS

COMPLAINTS are sometimes received of articles or communications appearing in The Dispatch by those who differ from the views expressed in the articles. These articles do not reflect the views of The Dispatch, but only of the writer. The Dispatch believes it only fair and desirable that every citizen be given the opportunity to express his views on all public questions, whether it is concerning the strike or other industrial problems, politics, social problems, or any other public questions, provided it is done briefly and in courteous language, and it invites all citizens to do so. It was in accord with this policy that The Dispatch invited the striking shophmen to give their side of the controversy as well as the railroad officials, and hopes they will do so. As to the news it tries to print what has happened in an unbiased manner, reserving the editorial columns for an expression of its own views.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

There is a third side to the controversy for there are some people in our city who are not personally interested in the strike or on the railroad side. Some of these men have had a very hard time to get work on account of the strike, especially as in several instances the union men have underbid them and got work they expected to have.

In one instance on a sewer job recently, the shop men came and offered to work ten cents an hour cheaper if the contractor hired all shophmen. Of course they were taken and the non-union men, who have no chance of help from a union in case of necessity, were left out in the cold by these "misplacement men".

Now, when the city authorities feel that the need of extra police and deputies, etc., and asked the unions if they preferred home men or militia, etc., they asked for home men to protect the peace and safety of the whole community.

But now many of the union people feel aggrieved because the strikers, etc., were not asked to do this work and think it not right that some men who have had little or no work all summer have been chosen for it.

It doesn't seem a very fair or impartial attitude on the part of the strikers. Let us all work together for the peace and safety of our own town and county and hope for a speedy settlement with a square deal for all. Live and let live.

"ANOTHER CITIZEN"

COMMUNICATION

Daily Dispatch:

Please allow me space in your paper. The last week you have printed a great deal about strikers and made some of us taxpayers wonder if we could go out of our homes to get fresh air. Now we have a few business men that are with us in our cause, although if we could look into the hearts of the rest of them we might find that they were on the level with the rest. Anyway it looked dark for a few days, but there is never a day so dark but what the sun comes out and drives away the clouds. The strikers are stronger today and unionism grows by leaps and bounds and they are going to stick and they will win.

My husband is a striker and a man of good character, and we have always tried to do what we possibly could towards this town and there are many more that have sacrificed a great deal to make it a good city. I am sure that the business men have not lost one dollar or never will lose a dollar that the strikers owe them. They are surely tightening the rope around their own necks, slowly but surely. It looks as though there are some people that would sell their character and the character of their fellow workers and the fraternal members for a piece of silver. Now is this brotherly love? When I grew up, my parents always taught us never to be a traitor or spy to our country, lodge, union, church or any upbuilding organizations that we joined. The little things that I have done for the union I am proud of and am satisfied to have been able to help, and whether the fight is lost or won we can take our family and at any time leave Brainerd or stay and we can look any man or woman in the eyes and tell them that our characters were not blemished by the glimmering almighty dollar. This strike has revealed the true reputation of some of our would-be pious, false, modest citizens, and if they can do anything to restore the good feeling that they enjoyed from their friends, neighbors or fraternal brothers, I'd say start today.

I am very sorry that they don't allow women on the picket line. I for one would volunteer and I know that the women would make good pickets as you all can remember what powerful good things the women did picketing at the White House for our women suffrage cause.

I say, in union, there is strength, so help us, God, to stick and we'll win.

Thanking you,

DARKEN GRAY HAIR,
LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. "Mother Why Not Try The Newer
Form Of Iron

And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable all the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?"

"The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine." There can be no healthy, beautiful rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale, and sickly-looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any druggist under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

For sale in this city by Johnson's Pharmacy, and all other druggists.

The people of the United States are ready to trust their foreign policy to the present administration, whose adviser, in the department of foreign affairs, has justified his claim to their confidence.

KANSAS VERSUS KLAN

WHATEVER else Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas may be he is fearless. When the governor has been led to the conclusion that a thing is wrong he is not afraid to attack it. Governor Allen does not allow anything to stand in the way of doing what he believes to be his duty. Even his friendships do not prevent his going right ahead on the road that he believes to be the right one. This was seen in his stand at the time when William Allan White said something that brought him into conflict with the Kansas Industrial law. The governor's friendship did not protect the editor from arrest as a law-breaker.

Governor Allen has been led to the conclusion that the Ku Klux Klan is a menace to the state of Kansas and, in accord with his fearless attitude in the presence of what he believes wrong, he has assailed the organization and announced that it will not be allowed to operate in Kansas. The governor's indictment of the Klan is based upon the belief that it helps to breed religious bigotry and community hatred. In this stand the governor of Kansas will have the approval of all thoughtful citizens who have given the matter serious consideration and have examined its platform and compared it with the foundation principles of American democracy. The Klan is fundamentally opposed to the contents of the preamble to the American Constitution and will not be welcomed by men who believe that every man has a right to worship God according to his own conscience.

OTHER PEOPLES VIEWS

COMPLAINTS are sometimes received of articles or communications appearing in The Dispatch by those who differ from the views expressed in the articles. These articles do not reflect the views of The Dispatch, but only of the writer. The Dispatch believes it only fair and desirable that every citizen be given the opportunity to express his views on all public questions, whether it is concerning the strike or other industrial problems, politics, social problems, or any other public questions, provided it is done briefly and in courteous language, and it invites all citizens to do so. It was in accord with this policy that The Dispatch invited the striking shopmen to give their side of the controversy as well as the railroad officials, and hopes they will do so. As to the news it tries to print what has happened in an unbiased manner, reserving the editorial columns for an expression of its own views.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

There is a third side to the controversy for there are some people in our city who are not personally interested in the strike or on the railroad side. Some of these men have had a very hard time to get work on account of the strike, especially in several instances the union men have underbid them and got work they expected to have.

In one instance on a sewer job recently, the shop men came and offered to work ten cents an hour cheaper if the contractor hired all shopmen. Of course they were taken and the nonunion men, who have no chance of help from a union in case of necessity, were left out in the cold by these "misplacement men."

Now, when the city authorities feel that the need of extra police and detectives, etc., and asked the unions if they preferred home men or militia, etc., they asked for home men to protect the peace and safety of the whole community.

But now many of the union people feel aggrieved because the strikers, etc., were not asked to do this work and think it not right that some men who have had little or no work all summer have been chosen for it. It doesn't seem a very fair or impartial attitude on the part of the strikers. Let us all work together for the peace and safety of our own town and county and hope for a speedy settlement with a square deal for all. Live and let live.

"ANOTHER CITIZEN"

COMMUNICATION

Daily Dispatch:

Please allow me space in your paper. The last week you have printed a great deal about strikers and made some of us taxpayers wonder if we could go out of our homes to get fresh air. Now we have a few business men that are with us in our cause, although if we could look into the hearts of the rest of them we might find that they were on the level with the rest. Anyway it looked dark for a few days, but there is never a day so dark but what the sun comes out and drives away the clouds. The strikers are stronger today and unionism grows by leaps and bounds and they are going to stick and they will win.

My husband is a striker and a man of good character, and we have always tried to do what we possibly could towards this town and there are many more that have sacrificed a great deal to make it a good city. I am sure that the business men have not lost one dollar or never will lose a dollar that the strikers owe them. They are surely tightening the rope around their own necks, slowly but surely. It looks as though there are some people that would sell their character and the character of their fellow workers and the fraternal members for a piece of silver. Now is this brotherly love? When I grew up, my parents always taught us never to be a traitor or spy to our country, lodge, union, church or any upbuilding organizations that we joined. The little things that I have done for the union I am proud of and am satisfied to have been able to help, and whether the fight is lost or won we can take our family and at any time leave Brainerd or stay and we can look any man or woman in the eyes and tell them that our characters were not blighted by the glimmering almighty dollar. This strike has revealed the true reputation of some of our would-be pious, false, modest citizens, and if they can do anything to restore the good feeling that they enjoyed from their friends, neighbors or fraternal brothers, I'd say start today.

I am very sorry that they don't allow women on the picket line. I, for one would volunteer and I know that the women would make good pickets as you all can remember what powerful food things the women did picketing at the White House for our women suffrage cause.

I say, in union, there is strength, so help us, God, to stick and we'll win.

Thanking you,
STRIKE SYMPATHIZER

NERVOUS? SLEEPLESS?

Women at Every Age Can Be Benefited as Was This Woman

Minneapolis, Minn.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an excellent builder of a nervous and rundown system. During middle age I suffered a nervous breakdown—was so nervous I could not sleep or rest at night. I was very miserable when I began tak-

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. ## "Mother Why Not Try The Newer Form Of Iron"

And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable all the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?"

"The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine." There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance.

It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale, and sticky-looking. Just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any drugist under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

For sale in this city by Johnson's Pharmacy, and all other druggists.

RICHARD ILSE TO OPEN NEW STORE

Grocery and Confectionery Located at Northwest Corner of Kindred St. and Third Avenue

PROPRIETOR IS WELL KNOWN

Christened New Business Enterprise the "East Brainerd Cash Store," Carrying Groceries, Etc.

Richard Ilse is announcing the opening of a grocery and confectionery store at the corner of Kindred street and Third avenue, which will take place on Saturday, November 4th.

Mr. Ilse states that he is putting in a fresh high-grade line of groceries, candies, cigars, etc., and will make a practice of carrying only the best of everything in these lines.

The proprietor is well known in Brainerd, so needs no introduction. He was formerly employed in the foundry of the Parker & Topping Co. and is at present the treasurer of the city of Brainerd. His many friends, especially those in Northeast Brainerd, will be glad to hear of his venture into the mercantile business, and no doubt will be liberal in patronizing his store.

Mr. Ilse has chosen the name of "The East Brainerd Cash Store". He has remodeled the south section of his home, placing a store front on it, and making a sales room about 25 ft. by 36 ft. in size. New fixtures and equipment have been installed which adds greatly to the appearance of the establishment.

It will be the policy of the new store to advertise special bargain prices on a number of staple articles each week, and patrons are requested to watch the columns of this paper for such advertisements.

SOLDIER PICKED UP

John Murphy, New Recruit at Fort Snelling Had Taken French Leave of Fort Five Days Ago

John Murphy, of Philadelphia, Pa., was picked up in Brainerd by police officers and held pending instructions from Fort Snelling.

Murphy is a soldier, who came to the Fort about two weeks ago, and enlisted in the 2nd recruit company. Five days ago he took French leave of the Fort and started on a carousal which ended in Brainerd.

A guard from headquarters arrived Wednesday night and took Murphy back to Fort Snelling this noon, where he will be charged with being absent without leave. The fact that he notified his commanding officers within six days after his disappearance, keeps him from being classed as a deserter.

The penalty for A. W. O. L. is very slight, especially for a first offense; this one is for Murphy, and the guard states that he will probably be let off with only a reprimand in this instance.

Murphy is twenty-four old, rather small in stature, and shows the effect of the liquor he has been drinking. Contrary to army regulation, he wears a pair of black shoes. He seemed anxious to get back to his company and have the trouble over that he has caused.

The Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association, composed of farmers and whose business agent is George McCulloch of Oak Lawn township, has waited patiently for a week to ship three carloads of stock to the South St. Paul market.

There seems to be a scarcity of stock cars in this section and the farmers hope they may be able to get the necessary cars to move their stock to market soon.

George McCulloch, of Oak Lawn township, is the business agent of the farmers. During the season the farmers shipped thirty cars to South St. Paul. The market at present is rather low, but is holding steady, said Mr. McCulloch.

NEW PARK OPENING DELAYED TO NOV. 11

Announcement Made by Clyde E. Parker of the Theatre, on Thursday Morning

OLD CLIENTELE REGAINED

Contracts Being Closed for the Cream of Pictures to be Shown at the New Park

The opening of the New Park theatre has been delayed from November 5, date of the first opening announced, to Saturday and Sunday, November 11 and 12.

Contracts are being closed for the cream of pictures to be shown at the New Park Saturdays and Sundays. Matinees and two evening shows will be given.

The partial resumption of pictures at the New Park theatre is an indication of improvement in business conditions in Brainerd.

Mr. Parker, who is an ex-service man, considered November 11 a very good date to open the theatre, it being Armistice Day.

The management has been notified that it is impossible to book the picture desired for Nov. 5th and rather than show an inferior picture at this date will postpone the opening until Nov. 11th.

The New Park has adopted a new policy whereby they will show big special pictures only. Most of the pictures booked have been shown recently at some of the best picture houses of the Twin Cities. Watch for the announcement of the first picture in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

J. Adam Bede is a nationally known figure, and his lectures are always well received and instructive as well as interesting. The New Park theatre has been secured for this engagement, so that a large number may be accommodated in hearing this speaker. The admission will be absolutely free, for an entertainment that elsewhere is drawing capacity audiences at $1.50 and $2.00 each.

GARAGE PRICE ON GASOLINE

A correction should be made in the article published Wednesday in the Dispatch, in which it was stated that the price of gasoline was one and two cents higher than that charged by the companies making a practice of operating filling stations only.

It has been pointed out that most of the garages are only a fraction of a cent higher than the exclusive filling stations, charging the extra six-tenths of a cent per gallon that is required to make the price come out in even cents.

GALA DAY ON NOVEMBER 9TH

Brainerd Will Send Its American Legion Quartet to Stir Up Enthusiasm in Good Roads

The paving celebration committee at Little Falls is making great plans for the big doings on Thursday, November 9. Every good roads booster in Minnesota will want to be here.

This is one of the greatest events in the history of Central Minnesota. From the old oxcart trail of a half a century ago to the modern paved highway is a long step. A trip by wagon and team from the Twin Cities took from three to four days of tire-some driving. Now you can make it in two hours and a half by the modern means of transportation, the automobile.

The program of the day will begin at eleven o'clock with a mammoth parade headed by Governor J. A. O. Preus, Lieutenant Governor Collins, Senator Frank B. Kellogg, officials of Manitoba and Winnipeg, officials and delegations from St. Paul and Minneapolis and hundreds of visitors from all along the line of paving, the Jefferson highway, and central Minnesota.

There will be a thousand automobiles in the parade, ten bands, decorated cars, floats and 1,500 school children from the Little Falls city schools.

Brainerd is sending her American Legion quartette. There will be a smashing game of football between the Faribault high school team and the Little Falls high school. Entertainers and entertainment for all dances in the evening.

Little Falls invites everyone to spend the day with the livest bunch of good roads boosters ever seen. These good roads boosters are coming from all over Minnesota for the celebration.

SAMPLE BALLOTS IN THE DISPATCH

Voters Should Familiarize Themselves by Studying Them as They Appear in the Dispatch

STATE BALLOT ON WEDNESDAY

Thursday Evening the County Ballot and Friday Evening State and County Amendment Ballots

On Wednesday evening the Dispatch printed a sample of the state ballot which will be used at the general election on Next Tuesday, Nov. 7th. This evening a sample of the county ballot is being published, and Friday evening it is expected to print a sample of the state and county amendment ballots.

The Dispatch is doing this in the hope that the voters will clip the samples for study and familiarize themselves with the appearance of the ballots and how they are to be used at the polls on election day.

It is believed that this will be especially helpful to the women voters this year, many of whom declared that at the last election they were confused in voting. Due to being unfamiliar with the ballots and their use.

These sample ballots are identical with the ones you will be required to make out at the polls except as to color. Each class of ballot will be readily distinguished by the color of the paper that it is printed upon. The state ballot is printed on white paper, the county ballot on blue paper, the state amendments on pink, and the city amendments on lavender paper.

SAMPLE BALLOTS IN THE DISPATCH

Voters Should Familiarize Themselves by Studying Them as They Appear in the Dispatch

STATE BALLOT ON WEDNESDAY

Thursday Evening the County Ballot and Friday Evening State and County Amendment Ballots

On Wednesday evening the Dispatch printed a sample of the state ballot which will be used at the general election on Next Tuesday, Nov. 7th. This evening a sample of the county ballot is being published, and Friday evening it is expected to print a sample of the state and county amendment ballots.

The Dispatch is doing this in the hope that the voters will clip the samples for study and familiarize themselves with the appearance of the ballots and how they are to be used at the polls on election day.

It is believed that this will be especially helpful to the women voters this year, many of whom declared that at the last election they were confused in voting, due to being unfamiliar with the ballots and their use.

These sample ballots are identical with the ones you will be required to make out at the polls except as to color. Each class of ballot will be readily distinguished by the color of the paper that it is printed upon. The state ballot is printed on white paper, the county ballot on blue paper, the state amendments on pink, and the city amendments on lavender paper.

If food does not digest it turns into poisons which form gas. This often presses on heart and other organs causing a nervous, restless feeling. ## AIMING BLOW AT LOVE IN TENNIS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 2.—Renewed efforts to take the "love" out of tennis may be made in January, when the United States Lawn Tennis Association meets for its annual session.

Chances are that no official action will be taken to change the language of scoring, as it has been all hashed over before without success.

If the "love" is to be taken out of the game, it probably will come about through the adoption of the scoring as practiced in the west.

During the national championships at Philadelphia it was noticed that all the umpires from the middle-west and south omitted "love" when they were calling the scores.

Instead of calling "fifteen love" the westerners would call "fifteen" and name the player in the lead like—"Fifteen Tilden."

Use of the seeded draw proved so successful in the national championships that it, no doubt, will be retained as the official method of pairing the players in all the big tournaments.

Sentiment in the middle-west, while not against the seeded draw particularly, is said to favor an amendment to make the draw optional for the committee in charge of the tournament.

Some lively scraps are expected to result when the association comes to awarding the national championships for next season.

Forest Hills, which has been the pet club of the present regime, is said to be wanting the men's singles championships which have been staged very successfully for the past two years at Philadelphia.

The West Side Club at Forest Hills has been favored with the Davis Cup challenge round and the women's nationals, but the latter proved somewhat of a "bust" last summer and it is understood the club would like to pass it off on some other organization.

Efforts probably will be made to gather some color for the tournament next season. Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen may be invited to return to play Mrs. Mallory and Miss Kathlene McKane, the young British star, also may be asked to compete.

Julian S. Myrick, president of the association, is reported to be considering retirement from office. Strong pressure, no doubt, will be brought to bear to keep him in office, as his regime has been wonderfully successful and his individual care and interest are largely responsible for the present flourishing condition of the game.

Another nice task—it is always a bad job—will fall upon the ranking committee when it settled down to name the first ten players. William T. Tilden, unofficially the world's champion, of course, will be named No. 1 but the friends of William M. Johnston can point out that the wonderful little Californian beat the champion three times in major tournaments.

The first ten named by the committee might well be regarded as a world's ranking, if the committee should care to rate the European players who were here during the Davis Cup matches. Practically all of the star players from the other side with the exception of the British, engaged in most of the important tournaments here during the season.

"Here Come the Elephants!"

DO you remember how you used to be on the job bright and early to see the circus parade? Remember how you thrilled as the lions, tigers and the big, lumbering elephants passed in review? How the horses, the blare of the bands, the antics of the clowns, and the glitter of it all inspired you with a fervid determination to see the real show—the big performance in the tent?

You didn't realize it then, but you were getting a lot out of an attractive advertisement.

Perhaps you don't realize it now, but other advertisements, just as attractive, just as interesting and far more valuable to you, parade daily before you in the columns of this paper.

The merchants and makers of everything you want or need, here display before you their most attractive wares. It is truly "the greatest show on earth."

The whole purpose of any advertisement is to excite your curiosity, gain your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know; to remind you of something you have forgotten; to convince you of something over which you have been hesitating.

In short, the purpose of an advertisement is, in one way or another, to make you happier.
